The resort takes over management of food and beverage services.

HIDDEN VALLEY, PA – A new era is beginning at Hidden Valley Four Seasons Resort, as the resort takes over the management of the food and beverage operations. They have begun by naming Stewart Ireland the Food and Beverage Manager.

Ireland comes to Hidden Valley with more than 30 years of food service experience. His most recent venture was the owner, operator and chef of Ireland Food Service Management Company. "We are happy to have Stew join our team," commented Scott Bender, vice president of resort operations. "He is a true food service professional with the ability to contribute to the organization by developing innovative programs, exceptional food quality and a superior level of guest service."

"I am really looking forward to re-establishing the overall quality of the dining experience at Hidden Valley," stated Ireland. "There is tremendous potential at this property. This is a great opportunity to be a part of the Hidden Valley team. With the vision of the new ownership, I am excited to be here and get started."

The resort has been busy upgrading and enhancing the winter sports facilities, programs and guest experience since The Buncher Company acquired the resort in September 2007. "Taking over the management of the food and beverage service is just another step in moving Hidden Valley forward," added Bender. "We look forward to working with Stew to take the resort's dining and catering services to a new level."
